

President's Statement On Red Cross Appeal

Two Slight Fires Reported on Weekend

Firemen were called out for two slight fires over the weekend and for another this morning.

A call at 9:31 a. m., today was for a fire caused by the igniting of a plastic cover on a washing machine in a house owned by Edward Starks, 22½ Foxhall avenue. The blaze was out on arrival of firemen.

Carbon and soot burning in a smoke pipe at the house of Mrs. Florence Marquand, 68 West Chester street, was checked Saturday before serious damage resulted. The call was at 8:09 p. m.

Another call at 9:30 p. m., March 4, was for a slight fire caused by a short circuit in the car of J. W. Black, of Ulster Park, at Albany and Roosevelt avenues. Damage was slight.

Police, Doctor Still Checking Guy H. Horton

Guy H. Horton, 45, believed to be of Elkland, Pa., who gave the impression of a loss of memory when he was picked up here Friday, was still under observation at Kingston Hospital today.

A police check, meanwhile, indicates that a man of the same name and general description had attempted to take his life at Hoboken, N. J., last Jan. 23. A teletype message to local police, however, had not definitely established the identity.

Horton, a physician said, is under observation for "mental and physical evaluations." He was picked up here after telling police an involved story.

Officers Everett Emmick and William Slover brought Horton to headquarters after he had stopped at a Foxhall avenue store and asked that the police be called because he was worried.

Later, police said, he claimed that he had lost $250, and he believed that someone had "slugged him and taken his money." He was unable to state where the attack had taken place.

Horton told police, however, that he had arrived in the city by taxi Monday, but he did not recall where he had come from, nor did he recall leaving his Pennsylvania home.

Results of examination, to date, it was said, do not indicate definitely that he is an amnesia victim.

Long Distance Education
Green River, Wyo. (AP)—John V. Bernard, Green River school superintendent, lays claim to some kind of record as a student commuter. Each weekend, Bernard makes a 480-mile round trip to Laramie to work on his doctor's degree in educational administration at the University of Wyoming.

DIED
GIPPERT—At Saugerties, N. Y., March 4, 1936, Mrs. Naomi E. Gippert, wife of the late Charles Gippert, Sr.

Memorial
In loving memory of our beloved husband and devoted father, Clyde Rion, who passed away six years ago today, March 5, 1930.

When a father breathes his last farewell
The blow is more than tongue can tell
Earth seems quite another place
Without the smile of a father's face
Sleep on, dear father and take your rest
For God called when He thought best
Our loss means pain, but yours means gain
In Heaven we hope to meet you once again

The following transcript of President Eisenhower's Red Cross statement in full at the opening of his historical press conference at the White House, was received by James A. Hanstein, chairman of the Ulster County Fund Campaign, today.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I have several announcements this morning. The first one involves the yearly campaign for the Red Cross and, I think, I could profitably use the whole hour if I would try to express what I really believe about it.

"SEVENTY-FIVE years this organization has been serving America—in a way it has been sort of the conscience of America, America doing here and abroad what we, as citizens, believe should be done, and acting as our agent in carrying out the relief and other kinds of duties that have done so much for humanity, and have meant so much to us, because we felt that through this Red Cross we are enabled to discharge or to satisfy our real desire to be humans.

"Last year was a very tough year for them. We had the big flood in New England. Mr. Roland Harriman, the president, was on the job from the beginning, did a magnificent job, and had to have a special drive, you will recall, for funds. While they were still operating in that area, they had the big floods in the northwest just before Christmas.

"EVEN TODAY they are, the Red Cross is, helping some 11,000 American families to get through a period of great distress and emergency, so they can again begin to function as normal citizens.

"I would like to have each of you exercise your best talents as eloquent supporters of the Red Cross, and put out the best appeals that you know to double the quota they ask, and do it quickly, to show what we really think of this great organization that has served us so long in peace and war."

Four Injured

sion at Albany and South Manor avenues, and a Bronx woman was the only one reported injured in a four-car collision on the Rondout creek bridge in the afternoon.

Nancy Drew, 40, of 307 Alexander avenue, Bronx, was reported "shaken up," and was to be given treatment after the bridge mishap.

A police report at 3:30 p. m., said the cars of Jack Moseley, 18, of 128 Spring street, Charles Drew, of 307 Alexander avenue, Bronx, and Joseph Purish, 43, of Connelly, were all headed west on the bridge, when the sedan of Ernest Lovely, 44, of Orangeburg, ran into the rear of the Purish car and telescoped the others in collision.

Officers John Crespinio and Myer Levy, who investigated said the sedan of Lovely was towed from the scene.

A police report at 1:45 p. m., Saturday said a car driven by Kenneth F. Miller, 17, of 127 O'Neill street was headed west on Albany avenue, and the car of Carolyn E. Lorman, 25, of 7 Prospect street, was headed in the same direction, when someone ran into the street to get into a parked car, and forced one of the vehicles to a sudden stop.

Martha Miller suffered injuries of the forehead and left knee and was to be treated by a doctor.

A report at 6:10 p. m., said the car of August Howard May, 46, of Mt. Tremper, was headed west on Washington avenue, when it struck Eugene Douglas, who ran in front of the vehicle. The boy's condition was reported as "apparently good" at Kingston Hospital today.

A report at 10:05 p. m., on the accident in which Ethel Vitarius was injured, said the sedan of Frank Aidala, of 51 Harding avenue, was headed north on Albany avenue, and the car of Harry Houghtaling, of Stout avenue, Port Ewen, driven by Doris R. Ferguson, 18, of Port Ewen, was headed south on Albany avenue. Officers William Slover and Everett Emmick investigated. The woman suffered an injury of the right knee and was to be treated by a doctor.

10 to Take Exam
For Firemen, 26
Take Police Test

Ten candidates are scheduled to take civil service examinations Saturday to establish an eligibility list for appointments to the fire department, it was announced today.

No vacancies exist in the department, but the eligibility list will be established to be used when needed. The examination will be held at 9 a. m. in the office of the Municipal Civil Service Commission, 27 East O'Reilly street.

TWO EXAMINATIONS were held at the high school last Saturday. One was taken by 26 candidates for a police department eligibility list, and the other by nine candidates for establishing lists for appointments in the engineering department.

The police department list will be for appointment of patrolmen, and Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said that at least 10 men should be appointed to bring the department at an efficient operational peak.

The examination for appointments in the engineering department were for filling the positions of assistant engineer, junior engineer, senior engineering aide and junior engineering aide.

Priest Is Bus Driver

New Ulm, Minn. (AP)—The Rev. Otto Neudecker helped raise $9,000 to buy a new school bus for Holy Trinity Catholic grade and high school, then took over the wheel himself on the daily rounds. He decided this was the most practical way to help provide an education for his parish students.

Methodist Youth Witness Mission Set for March 9

Kingston subdistrict of the Methodist Church is completing plans for the Youth Christian Witness Mission in this city and area, March 9-11. The Witness Mission is one of the great emphases on youth work called for by the General Conference of the Methodist Church.

The Kingston subdistrict mission is patterned after the Conference Pilot Mission held in Shrub Oak January 13-15. Many of the youth who participated in that mission will be attending the mission here.

DIRECTOR of the mission is the Rev. John L. Riehoff, pastor of Trinity and So. Rondout Methodist Churches; field director is Miss Eunice Floyd, director of Religious Education at St. James Methodist Church; host pastor will be the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander of St. James Church; the registrar, the Rev. Boone L. White, pastor of Port Ewen Methodist Church. Miss Stephanie Cange of Shandaken is the subdistrict youth president. St. James Methodist Church will be headquarters for the mission and is serving as a host church. Other host churches include the Saugerties Methodist, Ashokan Methodist, Clinton Avenue Methodist and Trinity Methodist Churches. Youth teams of two, a local church youth and a visiting youth will go out to visit youth prospects. Youth that are not related to a church, youth who are lax in keeping the vows of church membership, and youth that are not active in any Christian youth program. Above all else, the youth teams will go out to win other youth to Christ, that He may be known, loved and followed.

Javits Announces He's Available For Senate Post

New York, March 5 (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits has announced he is available for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator.

He said his announcement could not be interpreted as "either the idea that I have to be drafted, or the idea that I am throwing my hat in the ring, or that I am an active candidate for any such nomination."

Javits said yesterday he would consider it "my duty" to run this year for the seat now held by Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman provided the attorney general and other Republicans decided "together" that he would be the best choice to help carry New York state for the Republicans.

Javits made the statement on the transcribed WGBS radio program, "Let's Find Out."

Former State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern, who announced Feb. 22 that he would campaign "vigorously" for the GOP Senate nomination, greeted Javits' announcement with a declaration that "the more the merrier." McGovern said at his New Rochelle home that he still planned to campaign vigorously for the nomination.

Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse, when asked for comment on Javits' announcement, said he is "a fine attorney general, an asset to the party and one of several Republicans who could ably represent the people of New York in the United States Senate."

Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan of Brooklyn, Democratic minority leader of the State Assembly, said on a television program that Lehman could beat Javits easily in the November election. Bannigan called Lehman "the biggest vote getter in the Democratic party," but conceded that Javits also is a "heavy vote getter."

Lehman, who will be 78 on March 28, reiterated yesterday that he had not made up his mind whether to seek reelection. Lehman is generally expected to be the Democratic nominee.

New Jersey's Mother

Atlantic City, N. J., March 5 (AP)—A 68-year-old Negro woman who worked as a waitress and did odd jobs to send her five children through college has been chosen New Jersey's mother of the year. Mrs. Helen Lee Johnson, of Atlantic City is the first of her race to be accorded the honor in this state. The children whom she supported and educated after the death of her husband have become successful in the fields of education, medicine and law.

Adult Education At Grahamsville Has Hobby Class

The Adult Education department of Tri Valley Union Free School, Grahamsville, is sponsoring a program entitled "Let's Relax" for the purpose of helping people in the surrounding communities select a hobby. The program will begin Wednesday, March 14, at 8 p. m.

Beginning the program will be a group of hobbyists displaying their personal achievements and telling us how they began, how expensive a hobby is, etc. The following people will participate: William Lamont, Waxwaxing; Sid Duncan, Ellenville; John Cihal, Woodbourne; M. B. Wakefield, Vincent Zanetti, William Davis, Sam Anderson, Theron Hasbrouck, Anna Varga, Bruce Denman, Anna Hastings, Eugene Fuller and Arthur Leiper, all from Grahamsville.

Professor William Daley from the Art Department of New Paltz State Teachers College will be the principal speaker of the evening. His topic, of course, will be the pleasures and pride of owning a hobby.

The Adult Education advisory committee has engaged the services of Edwin Andreani, famed pianist of Grossingers and environs of Liberty. Preceding Mr. Andreani's one half hour presentation of music by Gershwin, a musical duet by Howard and Isabelle Bernstein also of Liberty, will be presented.

This will be another in the series "The Long and the Short of it" and is free of charge to anybody who wishes to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Presses for Right Of Savings Banks To Have Branches

New York, March 5 (AP)—Clarence G. Michalis, president of the Savings Banks Assn. of the State of New York, says savings banks have a right to "follow their customers from the cities into the fast growing suburbs."

"This right," he adds, "is not denied to most commercial banks or any federal savings and loan association."

Michalis made the statement yesterday in urging passage of pending bills in the Legislature to allow a savings bank to establish a single branch within 15 miles of its main office.

The Savings Bank Association joined the controversy over bank expansion in an open letter to Ernest G. Blaik, president of the Roslyn Savings Bank on Long Island, who questioned the bank branch bill approved by an association committee.

In answer to Blaik's complaint, that the membership of the association was not consulted in advance, the group disclaimed any improper conduct. The letter said the committee on legislation had power to act.

The association said that freedom of New York state residents to choose the type of savings institution which best meets their needs is the key issue.

Michalis is chairman of the Seaman's Bank for Savings here.

Brownie Troop Organized at Jewish Center

An organizational meeting of a Brownie troop was held at the Jewish Community Center Thursday. The prospective Brownies and their parents met to coordinate the organization and direction of the troop.

Mrs. R. Epstein, leader of the Girl Scout troop at the Center last spring has been instrumental in reorganizing the troop and the Jewish Community Center is the Tri-Sisterhood Committee. Mrs. Abe Green and Mrs. William Zwick will represent the Brownies Committee on the Jewish Community Center's program committee.

Mrs. Ralph Feyser, Mrs. Herman Svirsky and Mrs. Morris Tucker have volunteered to provide adult leadership for the troop. The next meeting is scheduled for Thursday at the Jewish Community Center at 4 p. m.

Claims Politics Involved in State Audit Department

Patchogue, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—Phillip A. Hattermer, chairman of the Suffolk County Board of Supervisors, says politics are involved in the State Department of Audit and Control's accusations against the county government.

Hattermer said yesterday the department's report last week accusing the Republican-controlled county government of "erroneous" and "clearly designed to discredit a political organization."

The department is under supervision of State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat.

Hattermer said it was noteworthy that the report came "so soon after" State Investigation Commissioner J. Irwin Shapiro, a Democrat, had assailed officials of the Long Island county in two separate inquiries.

"If there are illegalities in Suffolk county," Hattermer said, "let these hatchmen of the Democratic party present them to a grand jury and send in a special prosecutor if necessary."

Hattermer said that meanwhile he would recommend that the board of supervisors retain a special legal counsel who is an expert in county law, in order to get the proper information about a course to follow.

Two Die in Fire

Ottawa, March 5 (AP)—Two persons perished last night when fire destroyed a frame rooming house in Ottawa. This brought to 21 the number of fire deaths in the Canadian capital since mid-December. The victims, trapped on the second floor, were identified as Mrs. Morley Strong, 49, and Michael Derij, about 60, a laborer who had moved into the house about three weeks ago. Earlier reports erroneously identified Mrs. Strong as Mrs. Joseph Bertrand. The only other person in the house, Joseph Bertrand, jumped to safety from a second-story window.

Larger Families Reported in State

Albany, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—The state health commissioner says he notes a "tendency toward larger families" in New York state.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, in his annual report to the governor and the Legislature, reported a record crop of 344,000 babies last year, 6,000 more than the high total of 1954. About 42 per cent of the babies were born in families with two or more children.

Salk vaccine helped hold the polio death rate in New York state last year to the lowest level since 1951, Hilleboe said Saturday.

Eighty persons died of infantile paralysis during 1955, he said. This compared with an all-time low of 11 deaths in 1940 and a record high of 3,349 deaths in 1916.

Hilleboe said heart disease accounted for 457.9 deaths per 100,000 population in 1955, an increase over the previous year. And the cancer death rate, 190.4 per 100,000, hit a new high.

The total number of deaths also exceeded the 1954 total by 6,000, but the death rate per 100,000 population — 10.4 — was the lowest ever.

Hilleboe reported an increase in the number of syphilis cases for the first time since 1946. However, he said, 645 reports of advanced cases were detected by a special survey among migratory workers, who are not permanent residents of the state. If these cases were deducted, he said, there would be little change from the 1954 total.

There were 199 cases of the disease in the early stages, compared with 178 in 1954 and 158 in 1953, he said.

Plattekill Firemen Enrolled In Blood Program

Plattekill, March 6—At the meeting of the Plattekill Volunteer Fire Company held last Thursday the firemen enrolled in the area Blood Assurance program.

Appointed to serve as Blood Assurance chairman for the firemen's group is Charles Martino who will be assisted by Ony P. Orlovski and Ralph Garcia.

The principal speaker was Dr. Ira Wickner of Wallkill.

Mrs. Albina S. Orlovski and Mrs. Leah Mervin, co-chairman of the 30-square mile area Blood Assurance program, presented procedures in coordinating the program.

Also present were Supervisor J. Gerow Wilkins, Councilman Andrew Montrola, Rev. John E. Swords, Constantine Curiale, Chester Howard, DuBois Grimm, Joseph Evans, Ira Mervin.

Fire Chief Ted Doaki distributed printed firemen call cards. Members who have completed their probation period include Ernest Waite, Robert Murphy, Peter and Paul Hagen.

John Duch, assisting the Township of Plattekill multiple dwelling inspector, Eldred Smith announced that application for inspection are available at the Carpenter Gun Shop.

Joseph Keller made a motion to sponsor the annual firemen's banquet which was seconded by Lester Upright. The president appointed Edward Neuwirth as chairman to be assisted by Ralph Garcia and Ony P. Orlovski.

Nomination of officers was held to be voted upon at a special meeting set for Thursday, March 29 at the firehouse.

Refreshments were served by host Harry Edler and a social hour terminated the evening meeting.

HEALTH FOR ALL NEW RESPONSIBILITY FOR FAMILY DOCTORS

In the past the family doctor was seldom thought of in connection with treating tuberculosis. This highly complex disease was left to specialists specifically trained to fight the "great white plague."

Although it was always important for the family doctor to be able to recognize tuberculosis in his patients, today he is being brought more and more into the treatment as well as the diagnosis of the disease.

What has happened to bring about this change? The discovery of drugs to treat tuberculosis and the medical advances of recent years mean that, under certain circumstances, victims of tuberculosis may go home to continue their treatment after an initial period in a hospital. Because these patients must take good care of themselves and often must follow prescribed treatment for a long time after leaving the hospital, the family doctor becomes very important as the guardian of their health.

Since he has greater responsibility for caring for tuberculosis patients, the family doctor must know more about the disease than ever before. This situation may require some important changes in the teaching of tuberculosis in the medical schools, with greater emphasis on "diseases of the chest than ever before."

Tuberculosis associations are encouraging the teaching of tuberculosis in medical schools on a broader scale so that the young men now training to become doctors will be able to care for the tuberculosis victims they will find among their patients in the years to come.

Marbletown School Sets Adult Law Class

Adult Education Class in "Law Everyone Should Know" will meet again Thursday 8 p. m. at Marbletown Central School. A lecture on the subject of "Criminal Law" will be presented by John Gotelli, Kingston attorney. A discussion period will follow. Mr. Gotelli has spoken on this topic to adult education classes at several other schools in the area and his lecture on this phase of law is both interesting and informative.

Briefly Told

Canajoharie, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—The appointment of Sherman Morse Jr., as vice president in charge of food production for the Beech-Nut Packing Co., was announced yesterday. Morse has been an assistant vice president in charge of the company's Rochester plant.

Ithaca, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—Cornell University plans to observe the 150th birthday anniversary of its founder next year but proof is still being sought on Ezra Cornell's birthplace.

Mrs. Edith M. Fox, university archivist, says she's traced the site to the town of Westchester, on the edge of New York city, but while she's pretty sure of the details of the Westchester story, she'd like final proof.

Mrs. Fox says she'd like to know of any letters or documents about the family in the 1801-1811 period, or maps showing Westchester between 1801 and 1850.

Albany, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Kelley Carr of Syracuse has been appointed to succeed Mrs. Gleason A. White as superintendent of the women's division of the state fair.

Mrs. Carr has been Mrs. White's executive assistant. Agriculture Commissioner Daniel J. Carey said Saturday Mrs. White had resigned to devote more time to helping her husband with operation of their farm at Duaneburg, Schenectady county.

Duluth, Minn., March 5 (AP)—Albert Woolson, 109, last survivor of the Civil War Union Army, was in the hospital today but his daughter said his stay would be brief.

Mrs. John Kobus, at whose home Woolson lives, said her father had been quite tired recently and the family thought he might rest better in a hospital.

Woolson has been hospitalized several times in the last two years with spells of lung congestion.

Woolson was born at Watertown, N. Y.

Albany, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—Gov. Harriman has announced the purchase of 37,916 acres of forest preserve land by the state since last April 1.

Harriman said yesterday that Conservation Commissioner Louis A. Wehle would submit a report this week on the state's land acquisition program.

He said the increase was 3,000 acres greater than the increase during the year from 1942 to 1954 and included a gift of 8,948 acres from Finck, Pruyn & Co., of Glens Falls.

The Paper Bag Jewel

By FRANK TRIPP

A postman lately delivered a $6,400,000 package of diamonds to a New York dealer, as ordinary, regular mail. A brokerage messenger delivered him a 427 carat diamond worth $1,500,000 in a common brown paper bag.

There were no armed guards, armored car, registered mail or postal insurance. It is one big dealer's way of handling valuable shipments; says he never has suffered a loss.

The idea of safeguarding valuables by not labeling them or trusting them to places where thieves would expect them to be is not new at all.

Back when registered mail first started, advertisers cautioned customers not to use it to send money, because that's where thieves looked. Poor advice for today, and now there's also postal insurance, though it would have cost $11,200 to insure a $6,400,000 package.

THAT 427 CARAT "paper bag" diamond is available if you're in the market. It will become somebody's "family stone." As yet it is unnamed, will be named for the family that buys it. So here's your chance, before Grace Kelly gets it as a bridal gift.

But remember, though carrots are healthy, carrots can be more care than tripsets, and never grow to self-support. They often bring worry, sometimes real grief.

Usually they get all broken up, just like big families. There was the largest of all, the Cullinan, 3106 carats, more than a pound. It was cut into 105 gems. One of its parts is the Star of Africa, 530 carats, the prize of the British crown jewels, still the largest cut diamond in existence.

THE VARGAS DIAMOND, 726.6 carats, was cut into 29 stones and the Jonker, exactly the same weight, into 12 stones. Other well known diamonds have brought fame—and sorrow—to their owners.

The stolen Great Mogul, when cut, weighed 240 carats; the Koh-i-noor, 106 carats, once was part of it. The Hope weighs a mere 44.5 carats; the Tiffany, 128.5; the Jubilee, 243.3 carats. The crown jewels of Portugal are under suspicion. The post break that their monster 1680 carat Braganza gets is that it "is believed to be a topaz."

TAKE THIS shopping list with you when you go to buy the "paper bag" diamond. It will remind you of the responsibility and the competition into which you are buying, and the heart-aches perhaps.

If you wear it you will beckon a blackjack. If you wear a paste replica you take the same chance. If you do neither, where's the fun?

Maybe you'd better drop the idea and get something like a Home for the Aged or a Children's Clinic named for you—even a brick in a church.

YOU CAN ENJOY these safely, proudly, anywhere. No one will covet them. No one will steal them. They will not be taxed. Such sacrifice as they bring will be offset by blessings to you and joy to others.

They will not make the swank society pages, the scandal sheets, nor the crime news. No thugs will stalk you. No heirs will yearn for your demise. No grande dames slander you—no selfish conscience haunt you.

INSTEAD OF in a bank vault, you would be storing your treasure in Heaven, where you'd be more sure to go.

Where no gems buy entrance. Where there are no paste diamonds in the crowns; no spurious crown jewels.

Where you are going to be for a long, long time.

RED CROSS ON THE JOB

Throughout the year the American people call upon the Red Cross for help. Once each year this great humanitarian organization turns to the people for support.

This year marks the 75th anniversary of the founding of the American Red Cross and on March 1, 1,500,000 volunteers launched the 1956-57 campaign for members and funds. They will be calling upon us for the means to carry on the agency's proud record of providing assistance wherever it is needed.

When disaster strikes, the Red Cross is neighborliness in action providing shelter and clothing for the homeless, food for the hungry, medical and nursing care for the ill and injured, information for anxious families and friends, and long term aid to victims who cannot get started without help.

The Eastern States Flood in 1955, the second largest disaster operation in the history of the American Red Cross, affected 41,066 families, of whom 16,025 applied to the Red Cross for assistance. A total of $17 million was spent by the Red Cross in six states to relieve the suffering of disaster victims during the emergency period as well as long after the flood waters receded. Many families seriously injured or wiped out financially needed long-term assistance before they could again be self-supporting members of their communities.

In Ulster County, 238 families applied to Red Cross for disaster assistance. Relief in the amount of $222,891.10 was spent in the local chapter for mass care and rehabilitation assistance.

Although Disaster Service is one of the most dramatic programs of the Red Cross, it is only one of ten distinct activities carried on under the organization's Congressional Charter. Services to the Armed Forces and Veterans, even in peacetime, account for 41 per cent of the total budget; Nursing Services enroll registered nurses for community service, conduct home nursing courses, and train volunteer nurse's aides; Safety Services train thousands in first aid and water safety skills each year; helps to strengthen the Red Cross throughout the world; Junior Red Cross in the schools lets youngsters serve their communities and those in other lands; the Red Cross Blood Program provides a channel for the "gift of life" to patients in military hospitals; and finally, volunteers serve their communities through their Red Cross chapters in many other needed ways.

The Red Cross is truly neighbor helping neighbor—without the generous support of the American people, volunteering funds, time, and even their blood, the past 75 years of Red Cross services could never have been performed. Keep the Red Cross on the job—join and serve so that the future will be as bright as the Red Cross record of the past.

NEW TREND IN RUSSIA

The Russian histories of communism in their country are beginning to be truthfully written. Addresses at the recent party congress indicate that Stalin will no longer be depicted as a demigod and universal genius who could do no wrong, but as a bloody tyrant who made many grievous mistakes. It is even intimated that the last will of Lenin, the founder of Bolshevism, will be published for the first time. It is reported to contain a warning against trusting power to Stalin.

Many of Stalin's victims will have their reputations restored. Among them is Field Marshal Mikhail Tukachevsky, head of the army, liquidated by Stalin's orders not long before World War II. His execution left the Russian army in a state of turmoil, and made Hitler conclude that it would be safe to declare war against Stalin, his one-time ally.

An acknowledgement of past mistakes in condemning opponents should lead logically to more tolerance for dissent today. The Communist regime should be firmly enough established to permit this. Any allowed dissent, however, will not be tolerated to the point where it might overthrow the men who are now at the top.

THE LENINIST DOGMA

It is not at all surprising that the Marxist-Leninist Dogma should be so little understood outside the Soviet Universal State. After all, Roman Catholics and Protestants belong to the Christian religion and they hardly ever understand each other and neither knows much about Judaism from which they both stem. Jews and Moslems originated from the same Semitic races and have religions which are closely akin but that has not made it possible for them to live in peace.

The Marxist-Leninist Dogma, in all its phases, seems absurd to the Western mind. The biologic interpretation of man, the complete omission of God and of any expression of mysticism, the elimination of personal liberty and the subordination of the individual to a social environment which not only dominates him but molds his personality, the avoidance of the profit concept in economics and the reinstitution of slave labor—the western mind resists such notions of life.

It was easier when Stalin was the master of Russia because Stalin was a brutal autocrat, a twentieth century reincarnation of Genghis Khan. Stalin was not even true to the Marxist-Leninist Dogma, as the Twentieth Congress of the Communist Party USSR has now declared. He built his own dogma in a book called "Foundations of Leninism," and he demanded an unflinching orthodoxy. He was uncompromising with those who even slightly deviated from his decisions which covered the entire gamut of human thought and activity. Deviators he had killed or, in a gentler mood, he exiled them to the tundras of Siberia. He organized for world conquest and held his power until he died.

Opposition to Stalin was constant in Russia and in the world Communist parties. He met the opposition by purges in the course of which he destroyed his betters, the founders of his party. When I encountered Stalin at the Smolny Institute in Petrograd in 1917, he was not even news-worthy compared with Trotsky, Kamenev, Zinoviev, Bukharin, etc. He killed them all.

After Stalin's death, the Communist Party had either to return to the Marxist-Leninist Dogma or degenerate into a struggle for power among men ambitious to be dictators like Stalin. In 1952, the latter seemed possible in the triumvirate of Beria, Malenkov and Molotov which Stalin had appointed to succeed him. But the emergence of Khrushchev ended the struggle because he reverted to the Marxist-Leninist Dogma and to the dictatorship of the party rather than of one man. This is called "collective leadership."

It is too early to grasp all that happened at the Twentieth Congress. However, it would seem to me that from an historic standpoint, this was a momentous gathering and that it is likely to strengthen the Soviet Universal State because it will bring into line dissident factions inside and outside Russia. To possess power, Khrushchev avoided the seizure of power, assuming that differences of opinion do not really amount to much in the long run. Whereas Stalin could not effect a change in government without committing murder, Khrushchev does not even deprive Malenkov of office, thus making them increasingly dependent upon him. Undoubtedly, Khrushchev possesses a sense of humor, which could not be said of Stalin.

The danger to the United States lies in this very sense of humor which makes Khrushchev more flexible than Stalin was. And it is this flexibility which has won for Khrushchev the great diplomatic victory of neutralism which is a peril to the United States.

The Twentieth Congress, it strikes me, is a turning point in history and not a good one for us. (Copyright, 1956, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WONDER DRUGS

"If you take a prescription to a drugstore today, the chances are overwhelming that the pharmacist will have to use at least one wonder drug to fill it. Yet 90 per cent of the prescriptions written by doctors today could not have been filled in 1935 because one or more of the prescribed drugs was then unknown." I am quoting from the very interesting "Science Book of Wonder Drugs," written by my friend Donald G. Cooley, which deals with the sulfas, the antibiotics, the hormones, the new drugs for high blood pressure, allergies, heart disease and gland disorders.

To deal first with the sulfas drugs, a dramatic comparison is given. In 1936, President's son lay gravely ill in a Boston hospital with a raging streptococcal sinus infection. A very new and strange and exciting drug derived from a beautiful brick-red dye was given him to swallow. Within a few hours his temperature began to subside and he recovered completely. A dozen years before, another President's son had suffered a similar blood-stream infection. He had blistered his heel while playing tennis and blood poisoning developed. In spite of every skill of medical science, the young man died. The President's son who recovered was Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. The President's son who died was Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

The few years of time that separated their illnesses marked the end of an old era of medicine and the beginning of a new age that is to much a part of our lives today that we take it for granted. The drug which speeded young Roosevelt's recovery was sulfanilamide. Chemists had known about sulfanilamide since 1908 but had not known its remarkable powers. The odd thing is that the first sulfas were not the result of medical research but were the by-products of a hunt for better fabric dyes. However, two chemists of the Pasteur Institute broke down the dye and found that the portion containing the color factor was useless against infections whereas the other half was a relatively simple substance known as sulfanilamide. Within it were concentrated all the fantastic infection-fighting properties of the drug.

The value of dyes in treating infections had been known for years; one of the earliest triumphs of Paul Ehrlich was the use of a dye in treating the organisms of sleeping sickness. Ehrlich's greatest triumph was salvarsan against syphilis. For a few years it seemed that the dream of a "magic bullet"—a drug that would destroy all hostile organisms but do no harm to the human body—was within reach. However, it was found that these drugs were successful against microbes (belonging to the animal kingdom) but were helpless against the more common and serious infections caused by bacteria (microbes of the vegetable kingdom). At last, with sulfanilamide, a particularly vicious family of bacteria proved vulnerable. These were the streptococci, sphere-shaped bacteria that typically line up like strings of beads when viewed under the microscope.

Streptococci cause more varied diseases than any other bacteria. If we look over an incomplete list we will probably find at least one kind of strep infection from which we have likely suffered: tonsillitis, septic sore throat, erysipelas, running ear perhaps leading to mastoid surgery, childhood fever, blood poisoning, scarlet fever, infections of the gall bladder, sinuses, teeth and appendix.

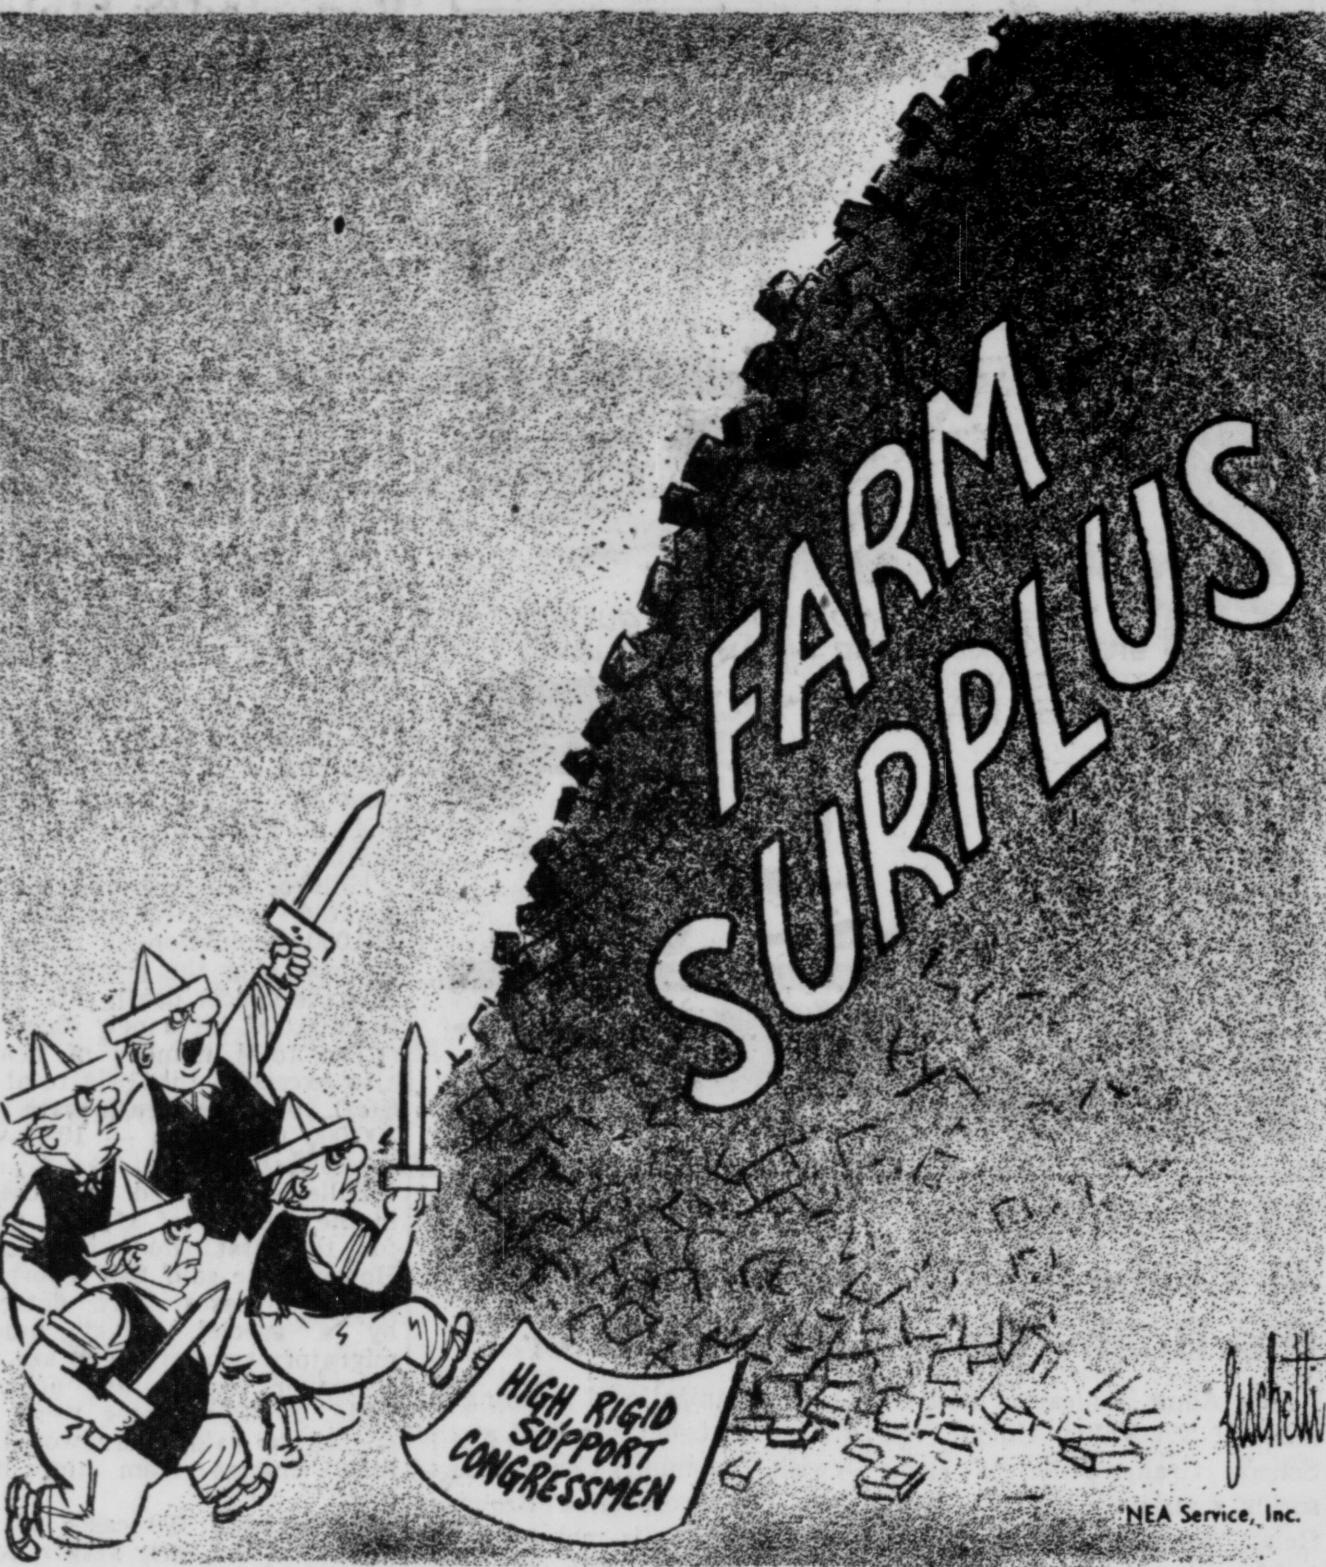

Sulfas are beginning to be used in combination with antibiotics such as penicillin to widen the range of germs attacked and to reinforce one another. The production of the sulfas drugs in 1951 amounted to 3,200 tons, so far ahead of the combined poundage of antibiotics, vitamins, hormones and sleeping pills as to provide no contest. The only common medicinal outweighing the sulfas was aspirin, with an output of 6,700 tons.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Maybe half a dozen times a year, the Pentagon becomes the most exclusive supper club in town.

This is when Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson throws a dinner party for some big shots in government or some visiting international dignitary like Lord Montgomery of Alamein.

One of the recent occasions was a black-tie formal dinner which Secretary Wilson gave for his departing special assistant, Charles A. Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge of Boston. The guests were a score of Cabinet members, ambassadors, high defense officials and their staff, belong now, Col. Carey A. Randall of the Marines, Wilson's military assistant, has run the mess for the last five years or so, as an extra duty.

The regular dining room is across the hall. It's a center where the top brass can get together for lunch, or take important guests. Whenever any of the members are there, the steward makes a note of it and bills them at the end of the month for meals served. Lunch is $1.10 or so.

There's a special fund to cover official entertaining like a dinner for some visiting chief of staff.

When it's strictly a private party, even though officials are there, whoever is host gets billed. The dinners run $3 to $4.50, depending on refreshments.

"People who belong to this mess are of an age which doesn't go in for big or fancy meals," says Col. Randall.

polished mahogany antiques. Linen fine and silver sparkling. Soft lights. Air conditioning. One of the cleanest spots in town. Sometimes a three-piece orchestra from one of the service bands plays soft music.

It would be known as the Secretary's Mess, but lest anyone get wrong ideas from that, it's called the ward room, which is the Navy word for it. Navy Filipino stewards staff it and the service is perfect. They're all screened for security, as sometimes top-level talk goes on during meals. It's considered an important assignment.

IT'S RUN ON co-op lines, like most officers' mess. About 50 of the top Pentagon civilian defense officials and their staff, belong now, Col. Carey A. Randall of the Marines, Wilson's military assistant, has run the mess for the last five years or so, as an extra duty.

SINCE SECRETARY and Mrs. Wilson live in a Sheraton Park apartment they feel they have no home in Washington for private entertaining. That's why they sometimes use the Pentagon.

Wilson gave a dinner there for Texans when Undersecretary Robert Anderson resigned. Mrs. Wilson once entertained 130 servicemen there for a hospital-duty dinner.

Former Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett entertained there for the defense ministers when NATO was formed.

General Marshall, when he was secretary of defense, gave a dinner there for Admiral Feltner on his retirement, to which President Truman came.

The late James Forrestal started this mess when he became first secretary of defense. Having been secretary of the Navy, he set it up in Navy style, and so it has remained.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Those who view with wild alarm some unconfirmed superiority of Russian students over Americans would present their case better if they would decide just what subjects need bolstering in our country and what physical apparatus now held to be indispensable might be dispensed with, after all.

There are in Arizona miles of the most expensive hurricane or bull-tight fencing surrounding hundreds of public schools which provide a grade of education now held to be dangerously bad.

The theory is that these barricades save the lives of tots from blood-thirsty motorists. Miles of this fencing follows the side-lines and back-lanes of school lots where there is not even a trail and no traffic ever goes.

A new high school in Tucson has about a half-mile of hurricane fence along a back-line parallel to a highway, 75 yards away, and along a dirt trail on one side used by a dozen cars a day. For about half the distance, this fence is five feet high. The rest is six feet and surmounted by triple strands of barbed wire on arms bent inward. The excuse for resort to such barricades of any height in the first place is not apparent.

The public school children of New York are being sent in frantic batches unexpectedly right onto streets constantly burdened with freight trucks bowling along up to 30 miles an hour. There are proportionately no more fatal accidents there than there are in Arizona. The fact is that the impudent, greedy racket called "education" has been looting owners of homes who moved to Arizona to get away from it all.

The school building "program" has been gigantic and here again contractors and purveyors never had it so good. The standard of living in Soviet Russia, which now is said to have passed us in the development of scientists and technical experts in her public high schools, has been below that depicted in "Tobacco Road." Much of the Soviet Empire ranks socially and economically with the Chinese backwoods. In our country, food, abundant, varied and altogether superb, is the cheapest item in the "living" of the family. Nevertheless our standard of "education," which is said to procure a stupid ignoramus, now presupposes that the homeowner without children or one who has already paid to send his own brood through school, has a duty to subsidize meals in school for the children of the current crop.

One droll "project" in the campaign to raise ourselves to the Russian level is a ball-yard of high minor league design at a cost of $105,000 for the use of high school ball teams. This Speaker estimated two years ago that it cost more than $125 per head to put a high school or college club onto the field, with uniforms, fastidious mitts and gloves, shoes and spikes, stockings and the lingerie that goes with all this. Baseballs of course were lumped into the estimate, and these effete athletes have no patience with the yarn ball wrapped in sticky tape which sufficed for McGraw, Jen-

Split in Republicans Feared If Nixon Foes Force a Fight

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 5—Efforts are being made in the most subtle fashion to persuade President Eisenhower to desert Vice-President Nixon and agree to some one else for the second place on the ticket. Some of the same people who tried to convince Mr. Eisenhower to abandon his running mate in the midst of the 1952 campaign are active again in the plot. They know little or nothing about national politics. They don't realize they could split the Republican party wide open and imperil the chances of victory this year.

For there's only one way to defeat Mr. Eisenhower — and that's to develop an emotional issue such as wrecked the Republican party in 1912 and gave the Democrats the presidency on a platform.

IF ECONOMIC conditions are favorable the party in power usually wins, but when there's a deep-seated emotionalism among the voters, which causes any substantial segment to protest, then defeat is inevitable irrespective of all other considerations.

The Republican party has already had one experience with stay-at-home voters. This was in the 1954 Congressional campaign in certain states. Gov. Harriman, Democrat, owed his victory and Sen. Ives, Republican, lost the gubernatorial race because dissatisfied Republicans stayed at home in key counties in New York state.

Throughout the nation in several pivotal states it is the regular Republicans on whose enthusiasm the party nominees must depend. It is going to be hard enough to bring that faction into line and only the yeoman efforts of the indefatigable Sen. Knowland of California will be able to accomplish that result. If Nixon isn't on the ticket, this task will be doubly difficult because Nixon symbolizes the fight against the Communists in government. For he helped to expose Alger Hiss and hasn't been forgiven by the "liberals" for that service to his country.

WHILE VICE-PRESIDENT

Nixon and Sen. Knowland haven't seen eye to eye in California politics, it is unlikely that Mr. Knowland will be stirred to enthusiasm if his fellow Californian, with whom he maintains a close personal friendship, is ditched through misrepresentation by the very same crowd who have been fighting Knowland and trying at times to oust him from the leadership of his party in the Senate.

The correspondent well remembers the maneuvering that went on in the California delegation just before Ike was nominated in 1952. At that time then Sen. Nixon was leading the fight for Eisenhower support and Sen. Knowland was leading the battle for Taft votes. The California delegation was the center of a real struggle. Immediately after the balloting which nominated Eisenhower, this writer said to Mr. Nixon:

"There is talk of nominating Sen. Taft for vice-president so as to bring harmony to the party. What do you think of it?"

"I WOULD BE for it," said Sen. Nixon. "You can tell that to anybody."

But the cleavage was too deep and some of the managers of the Eisenhower pre-convention campaign said it wouldn't do.

The significant thing is that Mr. Nixon from that day on has devoted himself to healing the breach in the party. He had the confidence of the late Sen. Taft. Mr. Nixon certainly gave no comfort in either the 1952 or 1954 campaign to those who were "soft" on the anti-Communist issue.

The biggest problem that faces the Eisenhower ticket is getting disaffected Republican voters to the polls. This will mean a precinct-by-precinct organization and an effective campaign. Already the President has announced that he will not go "barnstorming" and would make few appearances in person before the voters, leaving his campaign efforts largely to radio, television and printed speeches.

WHO THEN will do the active campaigning? If Vice-President Nixon were the nominee for second place once more he could take on in debate the Presidential nominee of the other party. The present controversy may provide the build-up in public interest just as it gave Mr. Nixon a television audience of many millions when he was attacked in the 1952 campaign. Strangely enough, though Mr. Nixon explained every detail of his campaign fund, Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee for President in 1952, has to this day never explained two of the four campaign funds which he had while Governor of Illinois.

Vice-President Nixon is an excellent debater and an effective campaigner. He would draw big crowds and attract large television audiences. He is one of the ablest men in public life today and knows the issues better than any man who could be selected as running mate to President Eisenhower.

HE HAS BEEN openly "smeared" by Democrats and clandestinely by a group on the Republican side who think that whatever pleases the Stevenson point of view will get Republican votes. It's an illusion which has never panned out—for the independent voters are not a collection of intellectual "liberals" but merely a group that shifts from party to party depending on the vital issues. Candidates in a personality sense are important, but their ability to expound the issues is even more important.

Unless the Republican party can get all of its regular vote to the polls and retain the Democrats who shifted in 1952 on the "communism, Korea and corruption" issues, it will be a closer race than most people today, even in the Eisenhower camp, are ready to believe. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Communism may be called a political faith. To me, definitely, it's a criminal conspiracy!

On Europe's doorstep lies a continent three times her size, rich in wheat, cotton, sugar-cane, rice, tea, coffee, fruits, palm oil—all treasures of man's desire.

It has about 200,000,000 people, three-fourths black, or colored—and open to conspirators.

Moscow has its eye on that great country. Until lately, it's been free from Red infiltration. It is a natural approach to Western power.

Look at a map or globe, and note how that dark continent lies with respect to other great land masses, Europe, Asia and South America. As far as geographical position goes, it could threaten them all with inter-continental weapons.

Then see its stretch—about 5,000 miles either way. Within its metals and gold could support an industrial economy better than anything in Asia.

Maybe our State Department is fully aware of the potential of Africa. However, the Moscow gang could rape the African people and their resources while the United Nations were discussing Human Rights!

We had better think and appraise the possibility of the Reds moving in by guile and stealth. Some beautiful sunny day, we may awake to find the dark continent seething with trouble. Let's keep a weather eye on Africa, and not be blindfolded by the "Spirit of Geneva."

How think, neighbor?

Powell May Quit Congress to Lead Prayers for Rights

New York, March 5 (AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) says he may resign from Congress and devote himself to a nationwide prayer movement against segregation if his March 28 Deliverance Day is successful.

The Negro congressman made the statement to an overflow crowd of 3,000 Negroes and a few whites during "Miss Lucy day prayer services" at the William Institute Christian Methodist Church in Harlem yesterday.

The rally offered prayers and contributions for Miss Aurtherine Lucy, the Negro coed expelled from the all-white University of Alabama.

Powell has already taken a five-week leave of absence from his post as pastor of the 15,000-member Abyssinian Baptist Church in Harlem to act as chairman of the National Deliverance Day Committee.

The committee is sponsoring the March 28 Deliverance Day as a day of prayer for full Negro equality with whites.

Powell has asked Negroes and others to offer prayers on Deliverance Day in support of the Negro boycott of segregated buses in Montgomery, Ala.

"We are going to so shame the wrong element in the white south," he told the rally, "that they'll get on their knees and exclaim 'Oh God, what must I do to be saved?'"

Powell said he will ask President Eisenhower to join the prayer day on the steps of the White House. He also said he will confer Thursday with Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, to discuss the nationwide movement.

The Congressman is author of the Powell amendment that would hold back federal school funds from southern states that resist the Supreme Court decision to end segregated classrooms.

Orient Airlines Plane Completes Non-Stop Flight

Seattle, March 5 (AP)—A Northwest Orient Airlines plane wound up a non-stop flight from Tokyo to Seattle yesterday.

The co-pilot, Capt. Dudley Cox of Seattle, said afterward that it was "very routine. When they start using jet transports, it should be common practice."

Cox helped herd a super-constellation yesterday. It's a four-engine, piston job. Time of the flight was 15 hours, 20 minutes.

Normally, northwest stops off at Shemya in the Aleutian Islands, or at Anchorage enroute to Seattle. But Cox said that the plane took on added gasoline at Tokyo with a view to making it non-stop.

The plane averaged about 330 miles per hour with its dozen or so passengers, many of whom were Chinese from Hong Kong or Japan.

Airlines headquarters at St. Paul, Minn., said there was no effort to set a record on Northwest's first non-stop try. A comparable time previously had been turned in by a Canadian Pacific airliner.

Lightfoot-Barnhart Nuptials Are Held

Miss Elizabeth Ann Lightfoot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Lightfoot of Corning became the bride of Daniel A. Barnhart, son of Vernon Barnhart of Stone Ridge, Saturday, Feb. 18 at the First Baptist Church of Corning. The Rev. Lorimer W. Crippen and the Rev. Roy P. Adelberg performed the ceremony.

Miss Lillian Crippen was at the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a waltz length princess gown of white brocaded satin. Her head band of pearls secured a fingertip veil and she carried a Bible and Eucharist lilies.

Miss Phyllis DuBois was the maid of honor. She wore a waltz length princess gown of pink satin with pink moonstone costume jewelry and carried a fan bouquet of blue Spanish lilies.

Mrs. Whiting Lightfoot, was the matron of honor. She wore a waltz length princess gown of blue satin with blue moonstone accessories and carried a fan bouquet of pink Spanish lilies.

Richard Lightfoot, brother of the bride, was best man. Frederick Lightfoot was junior usher and Whiting Lightfoot was senior usher.

Miss Lightfoot is a graduate of Cornell University in home economics. While in college, she was editor of the Home Economics paper, "Spool and Kettle," a member of the Home Economics Club and active in Cornell United Religious Work. She was a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority, Omicron Nu honor society in home economics and Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary society. Following her graduation, Miss Lightfoot taught home economics in the St. Regis Indian schools.

The bridegroom graduated from Kingston High School in 1944. In 1951, he graduated from Cornell University in Agriculture. He participated in many college activities; 4-H Clubs, Cornell Grange, the Round-Up Club, the Wesley Foundation and Ag-Domicon Council. He also belongs to the following honorary societies: Phi Delta Epsilon, National Honorary Society in Journalism and Ho Num Kah honorary society in Agriculture.

Immediately following the church service, a dinner for 50 guests was served in the Show Boat Room of the Mark Twain Hotel, Elmira.

The bride and bridegroom left for Florida. Upon their return, they will reside at Patroon Farms, Stone Ridge, where the bridegroom is a partner with his father, Vernon Barnhart, in farm operations and business.

New Paltz High School Names Two Top Students in 1956 Graduating Class

Miss Joan P. Dayger and Ronald M. Enroth have been named valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively of the 1956 graduating class at New Paltz High School.

Miss Dayger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dayger of 5 Orchard Lane, New Paltz, is completing a college entrance course with a double major in both science and mathematics. Joan came to New Paltz from Mt. Pleasant High School in Wilmington, Del., two years ago.

Last year she was elected to the local chapter of the National Honor Society, was a member of the Junior Prom Committee, Dramatic Club, and an archbearer at graduation. This year she has been an active cheerleader, appeared in the senior play and is a member of the Huguenot Club. Joan has also been a member of the school choir for two years. Next year she plans to go to Russell Sage or Cornell University.

Ronald Enroth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Enroth, RD 1, New Paltz. He came to New Paltz from Dwight Morrow High School, Englewood, N. J., two years ago.

Ronald is a triple major in mathematics, science and French. He has decided to begin his advanced study at Houghton College where he was awarded a scholarship.

Since coming to New Paltz Ronald has been very active in school activities. In his junior year he was elected to the local chapter of the National Honor Society and this year is serving as its president. Last summer he represented New Paltz at the New York Empire Boy's State. During the first semester of his senior year he served as announcer over the school public address system, participated in intramural sports, and is editor of the Huguenot. Ronald is also active in the school choir and was elected as the "Student of the Week" from New Paltz.

Fast Work

Ellerson, Va. (AP)—When Hanover county's historic Shady Grove Methodist Church was damaged by fire, men and equipment came from several areas to help extinguish the flames. "They sure got here in a hurry," said one resident in discussing the fire. "Yeah, and from a right smart piece away, some of them," said another. "I saw one that came from Michigan." The Glenwood Farms Volunteer Fire Department used a truck borrowed from a manufacturer in Lansing, Mich.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

ASKING FAVORS

Today's first letter asks this question: "Would it be taking advantage of a slight association for me to write a successful businessman to ask his kindness in helping me get a particular job? (This man and his family used to be neighbors of ours many years ago but we have not been in contact with them for a long time.)"

If it is something that you not merely think, but know he can do with very little effort, you might ask him. But if it requires influence on his part, it would be too much to ask of one who is little more than a stranger.

Bride in Everyday Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: When a bride is wearing ordinary day clothes and not a wedding dress and veil, is it in good taste for her to have a procession up through the church and out again?

Answer: If the church is very small, the wedding group would properly walk up the aisle. But if the church is very large and its emptiness therefore very conspicuous, it would certainly be better to enter from the chancel. The bride would, of course, enter on the arm of her father or whoever is to give her away. On the other hand, if there are no more than very few persons present, she and the bridegroom might possibly walk in together.

Regarding Tipping

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell my husband and me if it is necessary to tip the usual 15 per cent when dining out at high-priced restaurants? I think possibly when a check is very large it could be 10 or 12 per cent but he seems to think it is the same regardless. Answer: I agree that it does make a great difference as to the size of the check—especially if the foods have been expensive rather than numerous. In this case a slightly smaller percentage would seem fair.

What should guests wear to the wedding reception? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Clothes for a daytime or evening wedding are described in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-6, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. ## Stardust Grill In Connelly Is Damaged by Fire

Fire believed to have resulted from children playing with matches broke out in the Stardust Grill in Connelly about 7 a. m. today causing some damage to cabinets and walls, it was reported by Fire Chief Joe Scherer of Hasbrouck Engine Company.

The grill serves also as the home of the proprietor, Ed Scherer, and his family. There are four children in the family.

A woman standing on the street waiting for a bus saw the smoke and reported it, Chief Scherer said.

He said the fire was behind the bar in a section of wall. It is believed to have started when one of the children dropped a lighted match into some papers, the fire spreading to decorations and to the wall itself. The tables on some of the bottles were reported burned.

Some 20 volunteers responded, tore out paneling to reach the fire which had begun to spread between wall partitions and extinguished the blaze with chemicals and water. Hasbrouck Engine Company is in the South Rondout Fire District.

Thirsty Burglars

Paterson, N. J. (AP)—Burglars apparently worked up a thirst when they robbed the Dover Club. They stole several packages of ice cream and cigarettes and turned on the beer taps behind a bar. When the burglary was discovered several hours later, 3½ kegs of beer had either flowed down the drain or quenched the thirst of the robbers.

Interrupted Competition

Madisonville, Ky. (AP)—Gasoline spilled for 50 feet when a 3-inch pipe broke at an oil company's bulk plant. Tank trucks were sent by four of the company's competitors, who succeeded in catching about 10,000 gal-

Knowland Will Urge Few Trips

Washington, March 5 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) says he will urge President Eisenhower to make a few campaign trips to help Republican candidates for governor and senator.

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said yesterday he foresees a minimum number of flying trips by Eisenhower, but no cross-country train jaunt. Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.) predicted Eisenhower will do some "barnstorming" of the type the President said last week he will not engage in.

"He's a campaigner at heart," Goldwater said. "He has been through this before. He knows that it takes it."

Losses of the fuel from a 15,000-gallon tank. They restored the salvaged gas after the pipe was repaired, then resumed their interrupted competition.

Kingston Jaycees Hear Outline Of Future Plans

Activity in several community areas was reported at a recent meeting of the Kingston Jr. Chamber of Commerce.

William Bieber, Jaycee representative on the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Committee, reported that he is awaiting the receipt of prices for the bridge decals which the Jaycees will distribute when the bridge opens. The sample decal will be displayed for comments before the selection of the decal is made.

John G. Doyle, Kingston Jaycee president, urged all members to aid the Ground Observer Corps program. Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce is the only organization serving at the Kingston post as a group, spotting every Friday from midnight until 8 a. m.

IT WAS REPORTED that Jerry Houck has plans completed for the sale of American flags. All points of distribution have been contacted and full details will be announced in the near future.

William Steuding, Jaycee Little League president, reported that permission has been granted for the league to use Forsythe Park. Arrangements for getting the field in playing shape are now being developed.

Donald Lawson, concession machine chairman, is preparing a list of business firms where machines will be placed. He reminded the membership that their suggestions for additional placements are necessary.

Ray Christiana and William Bieber are the newly appointed chairmen of the Easter egg hunt committee and member of the membership committee respectively. Chairman Christiana will report on the plans for this year's hunt at the next meeting.

Membership Committee Chairman Victor Bargar welcomed new members, Robert Brainard and Robert Schonger to the organization. Both received Jaycee pins, name buttons, and membership cards.

PETITIONS calling for the approval of the Hoover Committee report were circulated for signatures by Robert MacKinnon, committee chairman for the "Our Stake in Better Government" project. The Hoover Committee Report advocates the creation of economies in government by elimination of duplicating government agencies and personnel and other similar means.

State Vice-President Robert Stedje urged all members to attend the state meeting in Poughkeepsie Friday evening and Saturday, March 9 and 10. Combining business and pleasure, the meeting will feature 4 forums, a workshop session, banquet and dance.

Bart Jardano, president of Poughkeepsie Jaycees, was present at the meeting, and briefed members on state meeting plans. He also explained the Soap Box Derby project.

Robert Huffman, community ambassador project representative, showed a film depicting the project in action. A question and answer period followed the film.

English Is Spoken

Mexico City (AP)—Mexican tourists are protesting that they have a hard time getting anything to eat in Acapulco unless they read English. They complain to Mexican tourist officials that all menus of top hotels are in English. Further, they say employees give better service to Americans because they expect biggest tips from them. Acapulco, on Mexico's Pacific coast, is a favorite winter resort usually packed with Americans.

Big Shrimp

Freshwater shrimp run to extremes in size. Most are too small to be of any commercial value, but one species, Macrobrachium carolinense, of southern Florida, grows to a length of two feet.

Kilgore's Death Poses Legal Riddle

Charleston, W. Va., March 5 (AP)—The state of West Virginia today looked to the judiciary and thought about asking the legislature for the solution to the legal riddle posed by the death of Sen. Harley M. Kilgore.

The term of the 63-year-old Democrat, who died last week, still has two years to run.

There is a conflict in state law on how to nominate candidates for the unexpired portion of his term.

THE STATE SUPREME court was to hear a petition today by Philip H. Hill, a Charleston attorney whose certificate as a Republican primary election candidate was refused by Secretary of State D. Pitt O'Brien last Saturday to test the question.

Gov. William C. Marland a Democrat, was due back in his office after a fishing vacation in Florida. Legislative leaders are on record as favoring a special session to clarify the nominating procedure.

Marland, the man who would call the session, also is reported to favor legislative action to clear up the dilemma.

The riddle is this: One section of state law provides that nominations shall be made (1) in the primary if the vacancy occurs more than 30 days before the primary, which is the case in this instance, or (2) in party conventions if the vacancy occurs within 30 days of the primary.

However, another section of law sets the deadline for filing for the primary at midnight, Feb. 4, the 14th Saturday before the primary.

When legislators advanced the filing a few years ago, they neglected to amend the section dealing with vacancies.

Attorney General John G. Fox has given the opinion that candidates should be chosen in the primary.

Capital Races Longevity

Thousands of people in their sixties, seventies and eighties living on invested income are having difficult times balancing their budgets. It is a perennial financial problem. It transcends politics. High living costs and low interest rates are national institutions.

Janet Brewster, widow, is one of these persons. In 1951 she did what she thought was the conservative thing to do: put her money at work at 2%, 2% and 3 per cent. She thought she could live on $150 a month. By 1952 she knew she couldn't. She had had to spend nearly $2,000 of her capital to live as she was living. And by late 1954, $5,000 of her estate had gone the same way.

Losses have an alarming way of undermining financial security. She reasoned thus: for leaving a balanced budget, she must reduce her already inadequate standard of living.

But if she is to require a return of 5 per cent, risks of another sort must be assumed. And why should she not assume them? In less than four years she spent $5,000 of her capital. And possibly the securities she could have bought to give her a higher return would have held their own, pricewise, or even advanced.

Consequently, late in 1955 she abandoned her 3 per cent program. And this is what she has done with all except a few thousand dollars that she will hold in reserve:

(1) With 60 per cent of her fund she has bought high grade common stocks of the best corporations in America — equities that have paid unflinching dividends for 25 years or more.

(2) With the rest of the fund she has purchased good grade bonds, preferred and common stocks of lesser qualities than in list one. These assets will be managed. That is to say, long term profits will be taken from time to time when they are available.

Now these profits will be used in two ways: (1) to maintain good living standards and (2) to build cash reserves in banks and to buy, for permanent investment, securities of the quality in the first group.

There are thousands of Janet Brewsters in America. Some of them are social, educational, philanthropic and religious organizations.

Competent capital management on many levels is today a crying need. Investors suffering most from cheap money are

Ernest Rovere in his splendid new book, "Point Count Contract Bridge Complete," writes: "If possible a high card should first be played before taking a single finesse. This play safeguards against the missing card being a singleton."

Ernie illustrates the point in his book with the hand shown today. The defenders lead three rounds of hearts and South ruffs the third. South is worried about both black queens and must also knock out the ace of diamonds. He has his work cut out for him.

The first step is to lead out the ace of spades. Fortunately, the queen drops, and South has no further worries about trumps. If the queen hadn't dropped, South would plan a finesse. The point is that South would lose a trump trick if he began by taking a finesse. He avoids this loss by playing a high card first, exactly as Ernie Rovere recommends.

South isn't yet out of the woods. If he draws all four trumps from the East hand and then leads diamonds, the player who has the ace of diamonds may still have a heart left. If so, that heart will be a winner, for South will be out of trumps.

South, therefore, leads diamonds to knock out the ace while dummy still has a trump to stop any possible heart return. East takes the ace of diamonds, but the defense is washed up.

South wins any return, draws the rest of the trumps, and discards his losing club on dummy's fourth diamond. This makes it unnecessary to take a finesse in clubs.

Red Cross Plans First Aid Course

A Red Cross standard first aid course will be taught at YMCA beginning Wednesday, March 14, 7:15 p. m. by Charles W. Brevoort, authorized instructor, according to Harold A. Sanford, safety chairman in the local chapter.

Twenty hours of class instruction are required for the completion of the course. Upon successful completion, Standard Course Red Cross First Aid certificates will be issued. This instruction is offered to the public without charge.

"EACH YEAR across the country accidents take an immense toll in killed and injured. No one is safe from accidents—at home, at work, or at play," Mr. Sanford pointed out. "Accident prevention and first aid are a hand-in-glove team and one major aim of the Red Cross is to prevent accidents by placing emphasis on safety and the next on proper training in approved first aid techniques," he said.

Those interested in enrolling in this class are requested to call the Red Cross Chapter.

Benefits Spur USAF Enlistments

Retirement benefits now top the list of reasons why air force men—first timers and career airmen alike—are rocketing air force reenlistment rates to new highs, according to Sgt. Larry Snyder United States Air Force recruiter for this area.

In view of the zooming reenlistment rates, air force headquarters recently conducted a survey among airmen to discover why so many are signing over. The results show that the airmen appreciate the many actions taken this past year by the air force to make service life attractive and stable.

SGT. SNYDER said that along with the retirement benefits, listed by airmen who realize the advantage of long-range security, reenlistment included: satisfaction with job and duty assignments; air force opportunities for training and education; adventure and travel; family satisfaction with the air force; and the love of flying and aviation.

Other spurs include the new pay and allowances, traditional fringe benefits and the lucrative reenlistment bonuses often more than $1,000.

Veterans of all branches of the Armed Forces can secure full information on the prior-service program, training in career fields of choice, bases of choice and adjustments of rank from Sgt. Snyder at the local Air Force Recruiting Office, 259 Fair street.

Tillson School Sets Law Class Wednesday

Mel Davis	Liberty	Sr.	17	6'2"	170
Mike Tannenbaum	Ellenville	Jr.	16	6'0"	150

Honorable Mention: Tony Grimaldi and Al Long (Kingston), Dom Roscino (Newburgh), Carl Bresky (Fallsburgh), Bob Brown (Ellenville) and Ace Phillips (Monticello).

Bob Smith, Kingston High School's stellar guard, was picked for the 1955-56 All DUSO Basketball League first team by the DUSO Sportswriters' Association at a meeting yesterday at the Hotel Newburgh.

The six-foot 165-pound operative was the only Maroon player to make the star-studded squad. Four other Kingston cagers were selected for spots on the second team and for honorable mention as the locals dominated the balloting. Gaining recognition were Captain Tom Flemming, Richie Strong, Tony Grimaldi and Al Long.

Heading the all-star quintet is Poughkeepsie High School's all time scoring champion, Monty Stickles. Stickles, who was the only unanimous choice, was also named "Player of the Year."

THE REST of the first team

is made up of Stu Sonne of the Pioneers, Al Beccaccio of Newburgh Free Academy and Fred Ropke of Port Jervis High School.

Smith and Beccaccio, the only juniors and Sonne were named on the first ballot by the nine writers. Ropke was chosen on the second ballot.

Smith won the spot on the strength of his 14-point average and great all-around play. The backcourt sharpshooter, who played with the Jayvees last year, is largely responsible for the Maroon's sparkling 15-3 record and third place finish in the DUSO.

STICKLES' SELECTION was inevitable from the start of the season after narrowly missing out in last year's voting. The 6'4" 215 pounder rewrote the Poughkeepsie scoring records with his 383 total this season, bringing his four-year career total to 1,127 points, with two games left to play. His 25.8 average in 15 games is far above any of the other players.

SONNE is probably the most underrated player in the squad, and was the unsung hero in the Pioneers' drive for the DUSO title. Standing 6'1" and weighing 180, Sonne poured in 246 points for a respectable 16.6 average.

BECCACCIO, LIKE Smith, was a hot-shot Jayvee player who made good. The swarthy 6'2" 165 pounder was one of the most prolific scorers in the league, averaging close to 20 points a game.

Broad-shouldered Ropke made the Port team click and sparked them to the runnerup spot in the loop. He had few peers as a floor general and wound up averaging 12 points a game. He is 6'2" and scales 170.

THE ALL-STAR team presents plenty of balance and could operate very smoothly as a unit. Stickles, Beccaccio and Sonne are capable front men, while Smith and Ropke are top-flight floormen and feeders.

Beccaccio is the youngest player at 16 years old. The rest of the boys are 17.

THE SECOND team is composed of Flemming, Strong, Alex Oswick of Port, Mel Davis of Liberty and Mike Tannenbaum of Ellenville. Oswick is a sophomore and Tannenbaum a junior, while the others are seniors.

Grimaldi and Long made honorable mention along with Dom Roscino of NFA, Carl Bresky of Fallsburgh, Bob Brown of Ellenville and Ace Phillips of Monticello.

Taking part in the voting were Wesley "Bo" Gill of the Newburgh News, Ralph Fredricks and Mike Kowal of the Port Jervis Union Gazette, George Palmateer and Ed Palladino of the Poughkeepsie New Yorker, Charles J. Tiano and Sam Anzalone of the Freeman, Ron Britzke of the Middletown Times Herald and Charles "Chuck" Nord of the Beacon News and formerly of the Freeman sports staff. Balloting was done on an individual basis and not by position.

Middletown boxer Rory Calhoun's real first name is Herman.

Syracuse, March 5 (AP) — Carmen Basilio flies to Chicago tomorrow to finish training for his fight against Johnny Saxton March 14.

The welterweight champion, angered by a remark of Saxton's that "Basilio's right don't mean anything," said Saturday "I knocked out DeMarco with a right and I can knock Saxton out with a right."

Basilio was referring to his championship fight with Tony DeMarco in Boston last November.

"I can knock Saxton out with a right but I'm not going to be particular," Basilio said.

Smith-Demarco Contest Heads

Boxing Slate

(By The Associated Press)

This is comeback week for lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, ex-welterweight boss Tony DeMarco, and middleweights John L. Sullivan and Jackie La Bua. All four lost the last time out and barring draws, two of them should be back on the winning trail again.

Smith, of Cincinnati, and DeMarco, of Boston, clash in the top bout of the week at Boston Garden tonight. The non-title 10-rounder would be telecast.

THE CHUNNY, hard-hitting De Marco is making his first start since he was stopped for the second time in 12 rounds by welterweight champion Carmen Basilio. The last one was on Nov. 30. Smith was edged on a split decision by young Larry Boardman in an overweight bout at Boston, Feb. 7.

Sullivan and La Bua meet in a middleweight 10-rounder at the Syracuse, N. Y., War Memorial Auditorium Wednesday night (ABC-TV, radio, 10 p. m., EST). Sullivan, a body-blasting Briton from Preston, England, lost a close decision to middleweight contender Rocky Castellani in Madison Square Garden, Feb. 24. La Bua, a rangy 160-pounder from East Meadow, N. Y., dropped a decision to Gil Turner in Syracuse, Jan. 20.

TONIGHT'S television bout (Dumont TV, 10 p. m., EST) matches welterweights Gene Poirer, Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Danny Jo Perez, New York, in a return 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. Poirer outpointed Perez in July in the same arena.

Two young lightweights, Ludwig Lightburn, British Honduras, and L. C. Morgan, Dayton, Ohio, collide Friday night in New York's Madison Square Garden (NBC-TV, radio, 10 p. m., EST). This is another return. Lightburn, winner of six straight and now the No. 5 lightweight contender, defeated the hard-hitting Morgan last year.

Carpouzis Tallies 58 Points For New YMCA Scoring Mark

There seems to be no stopping George Carpouzis, the one-man wrecking crew. Saturday night the former Kingston High School star rewrote the YMCA record books for the second time in his career by tallying an amazing total of 58 points as Backs drilled the Empires 119-75.

It was only last Tuesday long that Carpouzis saw his three-year-old record of 54 go by the boards when Wimpys' Bud Smith poured in 57. Carpouzis answered back quickly and in earnest with a flurry of 25 field goals and eight free tosses.

Smith's record still stood until the final eight seconds of the game when Carpouzis splurged for four points to regain the scoring leadership.

With Carpouzis red hot, Backs had little trouble rolling to victory. It took a 30-19 lead at the first break and was never caught. A 38-point last period skyrocketed the winners over the century mark.

Runnersup scoring honors went to Marty Kaye and Jerry Kaplan of Backs with 19 each. Bill Dubois, Bill Haber and Bucky Miller paced the losers. Dubois knocked in 18, Haber 17 and Miller 16.

Wimpys beat Hoppeys in the other game 78-73 on the strength of Bud Smith's 32 points. A second half scoring spree sparked Wimpys after Hoppeys had led at the halfway mark, 37-26.

Port's Lee Heckman Voted Coach of Year

Youthful Lee Heckman of Port Jervis High School was voted DUSO Basketball League "Coach of the Year" by the DUSO Sportswriters' Association yesterday at a meeting at the Hotel Newburgh.

The 26-year-old mentor won the nod in a three-corner race with Kingston High School's Jack Gilligan and Poughkeepsie High School's Sam Kallach. It took two ballots to gain Heckman the spot.

Heckman has piloted the Red Raiders to one of their most successful campaigns in history in his first year as head man. Port has captured 15 games and only dropped three with one game left on the regular slate. The Porters boast a 13-2 DUSO record and have already clinched second place.

Heckman came to Port after three successful seasons of coaching at Schuylkill Haven High School, Pa. He is a graduate of East Stroudsburg College, Pa.

Showdown at Oteora

UCAL Playoff Contest Slated For Tuesday

The Ulster County Athletic League pennant and a berth in the intersectionals "B" class is at stake when Kerhonkson High school collides with Saugerties High Tuesday evening at 7:30 at Oteora Central School's gym in their much-awaited showdown battle.

The teams finished regular season action last Friday tied for the UCAL lead. Both boast impressive 11-1 loop records.

EACH CLUB owns a victory over the other at home. The Sawyers rapped Kerhonkson 71-50 in the initial encounter, while the rematch was taken by Chick Meehan's troupe in overtime, 61-60. That defeat snapped a 15-game SHS win streak.

Overall, Saugerties boasts just the better record, winning 17 and dropping only one. Kerhonkson has taken 15 of 17 games.

KERHONKSON hopes rest with the performance of its center Werner Wustura, who has been a giant both on offense and defense all season. Supporting the big pivotman is standout forward John Mustion and steady guard Bill Smith.

Bud Smith's Sawyers have been paced by sharpshooters guards Joe Martin and Bill Hanna, co-captains of the team. Up front are high-scoring center John Kerin and Wayne Pleugh, the club's top rebounder.

Eddie Collins Jr. Gets Syracuse Post

Syracuse, March 5 (AP)—Joseph Reardon, president of the Syracuse Chiefs, has named Eddie Collins Jr. vice president of the club.

Collins was Reardon's assistant for seven years when Reardon was farm director of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Reardon announced Collins' selection Saturday. The Chiefs are the newest members of the Eastern Baseball League.

There was a time, and not too long ago, when UCAL might not have meant much more than just four letters of the alphabet to the casual observer.

Today it represents a vibrant scholastic sports family that is growing in stature. In fact, it has arrived as a full fledged athletic conference doing a terrific job for the young boys of Ulster county.

From the public relations standpoint, the UCAL is a rare institution. It tells the press what happens at its directors' meetings. It never shrouds its discussions in ivory towers. The press and public generally know what's about.

In stark contrast, we'd like to recall an incident that happened a few years ago. It seems that Coach Bill Burke of Kingston had disagreed somewhat violently with a football official's work in a game at Port Jervis.

There was nothing new nor alarming about Burke's tiff with the arbiter that night. We've seen it happen to others time and again in the last 25 years in the DUSO League.

Anyway, the league directors assembled in a DUSO city and proceeded to officially frown on our coach's actions. The next morning we received a telephone call informing us about the league's action. It was intended primarily to embarrass the Kingston coach. For years before and for years afterwards we never had any report from these august meetings. It was just too, too co-incidental to hear from the gentlemen on that particular occasion.

It was an incident that points up the difference in public relations between two similar organizations. We prefer it the UCAL way.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

The UCAL, incidentally, is making preliminary plans to publish a handbook containing all league information, rules, regulations and schedules. The preliminary draft is to be submitted to the league for approval at the annual spring meeting on March 19. Coaches Frank Hamblet of Highland, John "Chick" Meehan of Kerhonkson and Ed Witko of Oteora have been named a committee to establish procedure for selection of the league's first official all-star basketball squad. The selections will be announced around March 14 or 15. The UCAL has also voted it would join with the DUSO League in requesting the services of a sectional basketball commissioner. Minor sports tournaments set for the UCAL include: March 9—at Oteora—volleyball and ping pong; March 10—at Highland—square and folk dancing; March 23—at Saugerties—volleyball, ping pong and bowling.

Of Men and Mice:

The Advisory Council of Section 9 will propose at its March 7 meeting in Middletown that leagues or schools using only two officials for both junior varsity and varsity basketball games shall pay each official $18.00. But the schools are encouraged to use at least three officials. Where this plan is adopted a probationary official will be assigned to work all of the junior varsity games, while each of the other two officials will work half of the JV game and all of the varsity contest. This is an excellent idea and will produce better officiated contests in the long run. It will also mean tighter officiating for the Jayvees, impressing on the youngsters the necessity of learning to play within the rules. There are several basketball officials whose advancing age makes it a strenuous job for them to work two modern high speed basketball games at top efficiency.

The Section 9 Council will also propose a couple of measures designed to keep a check on officials. The Council proposes that be made compulsory for officials to check their assignments by written notification to the athletic director of the home school at least seven days prior to the date of the game. Failure to do this and failing to report without good and sufficient reason, barring an "Act of God" after Nov. 1, the official shall be liable to a $15.00 fine, payable to the treasurer of Section 9 no later than 10 days from the date of notification of such fine by the Commissioner. Failure to pay fine will disqualify the referee from further assignments in Section 9 for the next basketball season.

The proposal is a tough one, but entirely in order. It will eliminate the practice of officials running out on games. Meanwhile, the three-official rule should be adopted for all basketball double-headers.

St. Marks, Clinton Avenue, First Dutch Win Church Sets

Larry Brown unloaded 30 points to pace St. Mark's to a 78-17 rout of Albany Avenue Baptist in the Junior Protestant Church basketball league.

In other games, First Dutch shaded Redeemer Lutheran 47-46 and Clinton Avenue Methodist triumphed over Trinity Lutheran, 36-33.

Jan Oudemool hooped 26 points for First Dutch. Giads Tirums netted 17 and Jim Hooker 11 for Redeemers. Leudtke led Clintons with 13 and Niles hit 10. Sturack's 14 led Trinity Lutheran with 14.

Kingston Basketball Tournament Gets Under Way March 12

Sixteen Teams To Compete in Select Tourney

Sickler's Delivery Will Defend Title

Plans for the third annual Kingston Basketball Tournament which opens Tuesday, March 13 at the municipal auditorium, were announced today by Andrew Murphy III and Bill Ireland, YMCA physical director.

The defending champion Sickler Delivery quintet will head a select 16-team field in a single elimination tournament.

First four teams of the 1955 tourney—Sicklers, Monticello, Harry's Angles and Ketterston Motors of Newburgh—will be seeded, if they enter.

First round doubleheaders are scheduled March 13-15 and March 20-22.

Trophies will be awarded to the first four teams. Losers in the semi-final round will play for the consolation cup. Individual trophies will be awarded to members of the championship squad.

New and stricter eligibility rules are in force for the tournament. No known professional athletes will be permitted to compete. The committee points out, however, that any and all protests on player eligibility for any reason whatsoever must be lodged with the committee prior to the start of the game. Once play begins eligibility protests will not be considered.

Final date for entries is Wednesday, March 7. The schedule will be determined by a draw, with the top four teams seeded. A most valuable player will be selected.

ABC Leaders

Wisconsin Five Leads ABC Play With 2822 Series

Rochester, March 5 (AP)—Schwoegler's Lanes of Madison, Wis., held the lead in the American Bowling Congress' 53rd annual tournament today as a result of a 2,882 team effort last night.

The Madison team had games of 940, 979 and 963 as they displaced Goo Goo's Restaurant of Rochester, as the leaders among the top teams in the country.

Schwoegler's took over the lead with a balanced scoring attack that featured 602 by John Hackett, 598 by Dean Johnson and 597 by Carl Joppe.

In the "BOOSTER" team division restricted to teams with averages under 850—the Monarchs of Rochester continued to lead with 2,726.

In the singles, double and all-events, three relative newcomers set the pace after the first day's shooting in these events. Robert Rothgerber, 33, of Louisville, Ky., paced the singles with 693 while 21-year-old Don Krause of Milwaukee topped the all-events with 1,857.

In the doubles, Rudy Hausler and Bob South, both of Auburn, Ind., led with 1,280.

Maroon Wrestlers 5th in Tourney

Kingston High School's wrestling team finished fifth among eight schools in the Rockland Coaches Invitational Wrestling Tournament Saturday at Clarkstown Central School.

Suffern High School was the team winner, Nyack was second, White Plains third, and New Rochelle fourth. Other schools competing were Clarkstown, Pearl River and Haverstraw.

The local grapplers failed to take a first place, but did very well in their first competitive meet. Up until Saturday, the Maroons had engaged in only intramural action.

DAVE BEEHLER, Fred Wheeler and Marv Shaub made the best showing for Kingston, taking third place in their classes. Beehler won over McCall of Clarkstown in the 141-pound class, Shaub beat Livsey of Haverstraw in the unlimited, while Wheeler took an automatic third.

Bob Barnett, Jim McDonald, Pete Strobbe and Frank Pace all lost in the quarter-finals on points. Barnett was defeated in the lightest class, 130 pounds, Pace in the 136 bracket, McDonald in a 157 match and Strobbe in the unlimited.

Church Plane Lost

Point Barrow, Alaska (AP)—An $18,000 air plane which fellow Presbyterians presented to the Rev. William C. Wartes for his work as flying missionary in the arctic came to grief on its home field here. While the missionary's plane was being warmed up for a search flight, another plane ran into it on an ill-fated takeoff attempt. Both planes were wrecked.

Fish Fins

Fish vary in the number of their fins. There may be two pairs, or even three, on the lower half of the body and, in addition, there are single fins on the back and tail. Most fish have six, seven, or eight fins.

State Defeats Trenton, 91-80

Bob Miller threw in 28 points as New Paltz Teachers College downed Trenton State Teachers College of New Jersey, 91-80, Saturday afternoon at the Paltz gym.

Miller had an able supporting cast in Tom Murphy, Dick King and Frank Buckley, who accounted 39 points as the Hawks captured their 10th win in 15 attempts. Murphy chipped in with 14, King 13 and Buckley 12.

THE TEACHERS pulled in front at halftime, 43-38, after a close first half and stayed on top the rest of the way.

Trenton was paced by Herzstein with 15 points. Sutterly contributed 11.

New Paltz makes its final start of the season Saturday against the Alumni.

Father, Daughter

issued a verdict of deaths due to asphyxiation due to drowning.

THE BODIES were removed to the Francis J. McCordle Funeral Home, 99 Henry street, and were shipped Sunday evening to Beloit, Wis.

A funeral service and burial for the father and daughter will be held Wednesday afternoon in East Delavan, Wis.

Also surviving are an 18-month-old daughter, Ruth Ann, her mother, Mrs. Harold Kuhnle, of Beloit, one brother and four stepbrothers, and Mrs. Longmore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George LeRoy Lamb, also of Beloit.

Mr. Longmore was a field engineering student at the Kingston IBM plant. The family moved here from Beloit on July 1, 1955.

HE JOINED the company Sept. 8, 1955, after serving four years in the air force. Mr. Longmore was a graduate of DeForest's Electronics, Inc., Chicago, Ill.

Trooper Shurtler said today the state police of the Kingston station were grateful to the Ulster county sheriff's office, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., Ulster Hose Co. No. 5, the Saugerties Police Department and Lake Katrine residents for their assistance at the scene of the tragedy.

Col. G. F. Chandler Honored By 300 at Testimonial Here

More than 300 members and guests of the Association of Former New York State Troopers, Inc., honored Col. George F. Chandler, first superintendent of the New York State Police, at a testimonial dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Saturday evening.

STATE POLICE officials and political leaders of the city and state paid tribute to the 83-year-old physician who headed the troopers from 1917 to 1924. He practiced medicine in this city from 1900 to 1932 and served as surgeon-in-chief at Kingston Hospital.

Col. Chandler's son, Fehmer "Chic" Chandler, who has established a brilliant career as a stage, screen and television actor, flew in from his Beverly Hills, Calif., home to join the testimonial to his father.

New York State Police Superintendent Francis S. McGarvey congratulated Col. Chandler on his organization of the troopers, first group of its kind in the United States, upon which all state constabularies have since patterned themselves.

SUPERINTENDENT McGarvey traced the history of the state police since their inception in 1917 and recalled that 232 men comprised the organization at its founding. He recalled that Col. Chandler had purchased more than 200 horses for training by the troopers. The troopers underwent a rigorous indoctrination course, he said, because they had to train the horses without benefit of saddles, blankets or spurs.

The troopers received their first assignment in the summer of that year, Mr. McGarvey said, when they were dispatched to patrol the New York State Fairgrounds at Syracuse.

Mr. McGarvey said the New York troopers were one of the best organized police units in the nation and described how the constabulary had progressed with the times through its modern system of communications (radios and teletypes) and the addition of its BCI Bureau of Criminal Investigation, which has apprehended many notorious criminals.

The superintendent said it was not generally known but 59 troopers have made the supreme sacrifice in the line of duty since the state police was organized.

He commended Col. Chandler for instituting so many worthwhile principals and traditions which have been actively carried on by the troopers to the present day.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks praised Col. Chandler's far-sighted organization of the state police and lauded him for his devotion to the traditions of the troopers and as a practicing physician in this city.

Congratulatory telegrams were read from Governor Averell Harriman, Mayor Frederick H. Stang and scores of other state police and political figures.

AMONG FORMER state police members from this area who attended were Detective Clarence

Egyptians Arrive

Vienna, Austria, March 5 (AP)—A five-member Egyptian trade delegation has arrived in Czechoslovakia from East Germany to industries and conduct negotiations. The delegation head, production Minister Hassan Ibrahim, said in an English broadcast on Prague Radio he hoped "the endship between Czechoslovakia and Egypt will grow and open." Relations between Egypt and the Communist satellite have stepped up since Czechoslovakia agreed to sell the Egyptians arms in exchange for Egyptian cotton.

Weekend of Terror

Algiers, March 5 (AP)—Terrorist attacks, arms thefts, desertions and political assassinations plagued French North Africa over the weekend. The French reported 41 known dead in Morocco and Algeria. In Algeria, where the 16-month-old rebellion continued unabated, the French reported 11 pro-French Moslems assassinated and 23 rebels killed. In the Constantine area 11 farms were burned and three school buildings were sacked by rebels.

The most serious single incident occurred in the Rif border area of Morocco, where a strong rebel band fell on a patrol of Moslem troops led by a French sergeant. The sergeant and six of his soldiers were found dead. The other 33 Moslems in the patrol disappeared and presumably deserted to the rebels with their arms.

Probe Bludgeon Slaying

Oklahoma City, March 5 (AP)—Police today continued investigating the bludgeon slaying of a 48-year-old divorcee after releasing two men arrested for questioning. Anthony Marion Erwin, 50, Oklahoma City barber and former husband of Mrs. Alma Belle Miller, was released yesterday along with Floyd A. Barnett, 32, Norman, Okla., her son-in-law. Mrs. Miller's beaten body was found in her Oklahoma City apartment Saturday morning by her son, Robert Dale Moss, 24. Detective Jack Jordan of the homicide squad said Mrs. Miller was beaten with a heavy instrument with a sharp point.

NOTICE

During the month of March additional groups of IBM personnel will come to Kingston for a period of training which will require six to nine months.

Some of the men in these groups are married and some have children. They average in age from 24 to 27 years. And in most instances are college or technical school graduates. They are regular IBM employees who will be assigned elsewhere upon completion of their training.

THERE IS, THEREFORE, A NEED FOR FURNISHED AND UNFURNISHED HOUSES AND FURNISHED AND UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS WITH ONE, TWO OR THREE BEDROOMS. IN ANNOUNCING THIS NEED FOR HOUSING, THE COMPANY IS ACTING ONLY AS A POINT OF CENTRALIZED INFORMATION FOR THE STUDENTS. FINAL SELECTIONS AND ALL ARRANGEMENTS WILL BE MADE BY THE MEN IN THEIR OWN BEHALF, AS THEY ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR THEIR OWN LIVING EXPENSES WHILE IN TRAINING.

Those within a radius of 15 miles of the IBM Kingston plant who desire to assist in this housing problem are invited to telephone Dept. of Housing at Kingston 1300, Extension 625 or 628, between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. Monday through Friday or write Housing Administrator, Department 405, IBM Corporation, Kingston, N. Y.

WHO'S TEACHING WHO?—For a change it's the youngest teaching the old-timer. And 10-year-old Gundula Kampmann of Berlin, Germany, has a lot to impart about pottery making. She has been working with ceramics since she was five years old. Now she is such a fine ceramic artist that she teaches the subject to some 40 students—most of them several times her age. Gundula is shown appraising the clay creation of one of her pupils.

Port Ewen

Port Ewen, March 5 — The rummage sale planned by Dorcas Society of Port Ewen Reformed Church has been postponed until a later date.

Final plans for a fashion show will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Auxiliary of American Legion unit 1298 Tuesday at 8 p. m. The fashion show is scheduled for Monday, March 12 at 8 p. m. to be held at Reformed Church hall. Hostesses will be Mrs. Virginia Robinson and Mrs. Juanita Lane.

A Home Demonstration unit executive meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Montafia will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m.

All members and friends of Port Ewen Methodist Church are welcome to contribute to the rummage sale sponsored by the Altar Guild to be held at the church house March 14, 15 and 16. Anyone having articles to donate may call Mrs. Charles Montafia or Mrs. Bernard Darling.

Attorney and Mrs. Guy Haskins and daughters, Karen and Linda of Caldwell, N. J., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Zale Liese.

The monthly meeting of Priscilla Society of Port Ewen Methodist Church will be held at the church house Tuesday at 8 p. m. The devotionals will be conducted by Mrs. Samuel P. Tinney. Word for roll call will be "Work." Hostesses will be Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth and Mrs. P. C. MacDonald.

Girl Scouts of Troop 40 will meet at the home of their leader, Miss Marge Costello Tuesday at 6:30 p. m.

Speed Gun Revealed

Washington, March 5 (AP)—A supergun which can test-fire a missile the size of a golf ball at 7,000 miles an hour was disclosed today. Dr. Zaka I. Slawsky of the U. S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory at nearby White Oak, Md., said in prepared remarks the gun "finally removes much of the trial and error from missile research." It also will cut the cost, he added, from the $10,000 to $50,000 needed to fire an actual test missile to from $200 to $2,000 for a model missile "depending on the complexity of the experiments. The missile can be test-fired and photographed in the laboratory.

Pope's Warning

Vatican City, March 5 (AP)—Pope Pius XII has warned that the forces of "militant materialism" dangle false peace lures before the rest of the world to lull it into a false sense of security. Addressing envoys of 42 nations gathered to give him birthday greetings, the 80-year-old Pontiff declared peace for militant materialism—the term by which the Pope usually refers to communism—means only a truce which awaits "the social and economic collapse of other peoples." These forces, he declared, "orient themselves in a direction which does not lead and cannot lead to peace."

Railroad Retirement

A representative of Railroad Retirement Board will be at New York Central freight station, 545 Broadway, ground floor between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Wednesday, March 14. The representative will assist the railroad worker, his wife, widow or survivors in retirement and will discuss survivor problems and answer any inquiries in connection with the Railroad Retirement and Railroad Unemployment Insurance Acts.

Why We Say--*BREAKING THE ICE

FROM BOATING: We use this expression to denote that we have been able to make an initial contact. The expression started with the whaling boats of the Arctic area. They have to get special boats to break the ice so that they can continue fishing all year round.

ICY SHIP IN ICY WATERS—Ice is everywhere as a lone lookout scans the Antarctic waters. The ice-coated icebreaker USS Glacier was plowing through heavy seas on her way to McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic during "Operation Deepfreeze." The United States and seven other nations are in Antarctica trying to establish and maintain bases near the South Pole for the first time in history. "Operation Deepfreeze" has the double goal of implementing the U.S. program for the International Geophysical Year 1957-58 and carrying forward exploration and mapping.

BEGINNING NEW LIVES ON FORMOSA—Evacuees from the Tachen Islands, which the Chinese Communists took from the Nationalists a year ago, move into new homes built for them at Suao, Formosa. The evacuees have been without permanent homes since their arrival on the main Nationalist Chinese island stronghold.

FACING THE FACTS—A grocery store formally goes out of business near Fort Worth, Tex., with the erection of this sign reading, "Opened by Mistake." Management explained that the store has consistently lost money since its opening 18 months ago.

DRIVING HAZARD—Here's what driving in 30-degrees-below-zero temperature is like. Scene is downtown Grand Rapids, N.D., where extreme cold caused automobile exhausts to give off steam-like vapor that cut drivers' visibility practically to zero.

IN A WOMAN'S WORLD—Lone male in a flower-arranging class in Pittsburgh's Carnegie Museum Building is Bingo O'Malley, 21. An art student at Carnegie Institute, O'Malley is interested in art in any form, and he says the three-dimensional medium of flower arrangements stimulates his ideas for good design.

That Grand Feeling

Houston, Tex. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Hervey's neighborhood is a friendly one in which folks see to it that news gets around. A few days after becoming grandparents, the Herveys awoke one day to find in their front yard a sign reading: "New Grandparents Live Here."

Deadly Weapon

National City, Calif. (AP)—The municipal court put Alvin B. Cramer, 36, on three years probation and confiscated his bow and arrow. He had admitted exhibiting a deadly weapon—the bow and arrow—while chasing Hugh E. Maranville during a quarrel.

Whistled to School

Green Bay, Wis. (AP)—Children at the Franklin Junior High School don't listen for the school bell because there isn't any. The school uses a steam whistle which school engineer George Bunker made from an automobile exhaust pipe. It can be heard for two miles.

Railroad First
La Salle, Ill. (AP)—It was only a 17-minute train ride but it was the first for 149 kindergarten pupils attending La Salle schools. Teachers learned in class discussions that only a few of the students had ever ridden a train. A bus carried them to nearby Ottawa where they boarded a special railroad car.

Lost Hair
Tucson, Ariz. (AP)—Officers began to speculate—but not very seriously—that the Indians were back on the warpath when what appeared to be a scalp was found on the desert. It turned out to be a toupee. Undersheriff Waldon Burr said, yes, the hair was human—but the glue holding it on wasn't.

Carrier Taxation Committee Hits Bill on Trucks

Albany, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—The Joint Legislative Committee on Carrier Taxation has attacked the Brydges-Cusick bill as a measure that would cut highway taxes paid by big trucks by at least $6,200,000 and possibly $9,000,000 a year.
The committee said yesterday the bill, if enacted, would increase the burden of record-keeping by truck owners, eliminate truck-weighting stations "needed for enforcement against overloading and tax evasion" and "provide unlimited opportunity for fraud and evasion."
George T. Manning of Rochester is chairman of the committee. Harry J. Tiffe of Horseheads is vice-chairman. Both are Republicans.
The bill was introduced by Sen. Earl Brydges of Niagara Falls and Assemblyman Charles Cusick of Auburn, both also Republicans.
The bill would repeal the weight-distance tax and increase registration fees for trucks registered in the state. A fuel tax would be imposed on all vehicles for mileage traveled in the state, except on the thruway, whether the fuel was purchased inside or outside the state. The tax on fuel purchased in the state but used outside would be refunded.
The trucking industry, the Carrier Committee said, claims the plan will produce revenue equal to the weight-distance tax.

enable truckers to keep simpler tax records and reduce administrative effort and expense.
The committee said, however, the additional registration fees will produce only $5,500,000. The fuel tax will produce only $2,600,000 and not the 7 to 10 million the truck lobby claims.
"The $2,600,000 could be nullified by the refunds for mileage outside the state and on thruway mileage on fuel purchased inside the state, making possible revenue loss as high as 10 million dollars."
The committee also said the proposed increase in registration fees discriminate against trucks registered in the state. Under the weight-distance tax law, the committee said, "two-thirds of the trucks paying this tax are out-of-state trucks and pay more than 50 per cent of the tax."

Lausche Would Be Difficult to Beat
Allentown, Pa., March 5 (AP)—Sen. Bridges (R-N. H.) said last night Ohio's Gov. Lausche "at this time would be more difficult" Democratic presidential candidate for the GOP to beat "than others who are running."
He said he did not know who would be the hardest to beat in November. Adlai Stevenson is waging a formidable campaign, Bridges said. "He (Stevenson) has a brilliant mind," but "may talk himself out in eight or nine months," Bridges added.

His remarks were in answer to questions at a discussion sponsored by the Allentown Jewish Community Center.
Regarding the GOP vice-presidential choice, Bridges said he thought President Eisenhower will favor the same team as he had in 1952.

Two Women Killed
Pittsburgh, March 5 (AP)—In a few terror filled seconds a happy Sunday afternoon turned into one of horror near here yesterday when tons of steel rods from a careening truck slammed into a combination store and home and killed two of the three women in the dwelling. The truck driver, 46-year-old Anthony Marsilli of Pittsburgh, escaped unhurt. Killed instantly were Mrs. Helen Clark, 52, of RD 1, Coraopolis, and Mrs. Susan Druga, 45, of Imperial, visitors in the home. Mrs. Francis Kaelin, 49, who lived there, suffered lacerations and shock.

39 Hours in Bath Tub
Boston, March 5 (AP)—Mrs. Stella Crowley, 72, today was found to have suffered no ill effects after spending 39 hours in a bath tub. She became ill while bathing Friday night and was in the tub until yesterday when her daughter, Mrs. Mary Hawkins, found the doors locked and her usual Sunday visit. The daughter called firefighters, who entered the house and helped the elderly woman into bed. Mrs. Crowley's only complaint after her rescue was: "I'm hungry."
